

Upgrading the strategic research agenda in social science and humanities in ionising radiation and roadmap, on-line public consultation by SHARE

Date: 3rd of September, 2020 | 10.00 – 11.30

The working group on Strategic Research Agenda (SRA) has been working over the last months to broaden the current SRA. The document is now on the SHARE website for your comments by 1st August. It will be also sent to all RP platforms through the consortium of European RP research platforms MEENAS. We would also like to ask for your views regarding the prioritisation of research lines or topics:

1) do you think the SRA should be prioritised?

and if so, 2) which should be the method or criteria you would propose for prioritisation?

Please send your comments on the SHARE SSH SRA and your views on prioritisation to the secretariat at share@ssh-share.eu. Contributions from the members will be acknowledged. Also, bear in mind that this document will be one of the departure points for future European Commission funding on these topics.

Once we receive all comments, the working group on SRA will integrate them and justify why comments were (or not) taken into consideration. The final version of the SRA will be validated at the RICOMET session on “upgrading the SRA in SSH in ionizing radiation”. The final version of the SRA will be validated at the RICOMET session on “upgrading the SRA in SSH in ionizing radiation”.
